CUR MINING PROSPECTS.

The news which we present this morning to our readers from Cariboo is of an unusually satisfactory character. Cunningham's Creek which was deserted after an imperfect trial a few years ago, has turned out immensely rich. The old had of the creek which of the former occasion lay undiscovered, has been recently brought to light by a numbe of men, who have been averaging twelve ounces a day to the hand—one party reaching even as high as twenty-five ounces. The in telligence, so far as Cariboo is concerned, bas come at a most opportune period; for the recent accounts from Williams Creek were beginning to lose their exciting, if not interesting character. Already several hundred men have left that locality and taken up their quarters on the newly discovered ground on Cunningham's Creek, and the excitement in Cariboo generally is described as being inense. Unlike the rumors of fresh discoveries, which were circulated about six weeks ago, and which turned out little short of mythical, the intelligence of this new "strike" is so veritable, that we had the satisfaction of conversing with one of the lucky claimholders, who came down last night, and who showed us the most substantial proofs of his success The most pleasing part of the intelligence is probably the fact that Cunningham's Creek can be worked with very little expense, thus forming an agreeable contrast to the Cariboo Creeks generally.

We have no means of knowing what impres sions were made on Governor Seymour's mind during his recent tour through the gold fields of the neighboring colony; but we hope that this recent discovery will induce His Excellency, with the support of the members of the Legislative Council, to take vigorous steps so promote the exploration of the country with the view to opening up new auriferous tracts. There is, in fact, no hope of any immediate progressive strides, unless the most vigorous exertions are made on the part of the British Columbian government to prospect the colony. The difficulty of individual prospecting, especially in the present known gold-bearing regions is too great to induce any number of miners to undertake the task on their own responsibil ity. Outside the few trails that have been cut, the country presents to the isolated explorer obstacles that are, in his case, actually insuperable; and yet without some effor is made to develop new fields of wealth, it is evident mining in the neighboring colony will, in a few years, come to a standstill; for in the natural course of events the present gold mines must become ex hausted. Nothing can meet the emergency of the case but organized prospecting companies, under government supervision. The extent of the British Columbian territory, the richness which the gold fields already discov ered have shown, and the auriferous indication presented by the geological formation of the country generally, all hold out a well-grounded hope, that the efforts of some such expedition would be crowned with the greates success. The visit of the Colonial Secretary to Kootanais shows us at all events that the Government is alive to the importance o developing diggings for the poor man, and would lead us to conclude that the next session of the Legislative Council will not be allowed to pass away without a scheme of exploration being devised that will tend to open up the mineral wealth of the colony to a pop ulation more in keeping with the country's richness and extent. The visit of His Excellency Governor Ken nedy to Sooke is almost analogous to that of Mr. Birch to Kootanais, and will, we doubt not, have an equally beneficial effect. It is said the Sooke miners will take of the circumstance to lic meeting, and lay their grievances as well as suggestions, before him. The improvised mining regulations have been now pretty thorhoughly tested, and His Excellency wil have the experience of the miners, as well as ocular demonstration, to guide him in framing new regulations, or sanctioning amendments to those at present existing. The disposition evinced by the Governors of both colonies to acquire a knowledge of the respective countries and their wants, from per sonal observation, gives us strong hopes of the future; for it assures us that Executive action in either colony will be no longe based on hypothesis, but on palpable facts We hope that with this impulse in common to know something of the countries over which they are called to preside, an emulation may arise that will tend to push both colonies forward at a pace more becoming their their arms away to Alexis' Indians on the previous night, and next morning came untred to Mr. Cox's camp, and delivered themselves up, saying that if the white men gave them their lives, they would be very thankful—if not, they would submit to be hanged. Klatsassio stated that he came to give up the murderers, and that on their being hanged he would put the rope round his own nock and hang himself. The murderers neck, and hang himself. The murderer gave themselves up in consequence of a mea-sage sent them through one of Alexis' Indiana and to save the lives of their wives and chil and three quarters. He left at five minutes past eleven, a. m., and delivered a letter at the Coronist office at twenty minutes to two p. m. The fine pouy "Comox," which carried him the entire distance, seemed in no way distressed on his arrival here. Victorians who may wish to visit the mines, will now see that they can easily, with a stout horse, accomplish it without having to campout for one night.

SUPREME COURT.

Hoffman v. Culverwell.—Mr. McCreight-instructed by Mr. Drake, for plaintiff, and Mr. Wood, instructed by Mr. Green, for defend-

This was an action against the defendant for alleged negligence in the collection of a debt from the late Win. Cunningham, of Richfield. The plaintiff had employed the defendant to collect a sum of $300 from Cunningham, and the defendant took a promissory note for a portion of the sum, and a debt due from the same man to Jungerman. The note was payable to the defendant, and by him endorsed to McDonald, the banker, and the plainiff has not been able to recover the amount it can be recovered against his estate.

Verdict for plaintiff for $31 50, being the interest alone on the claim.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST,—Both trails are now completed. Messrs, Nicholson and Munro met at the Commissioner's tent yesterday evening. Munro's trail was finished at four o'clock this afternoon. Our party left Psatt's at half past one yesterday, and arrived at Munro's camp at 7:30; we travelled the remaining three miles this morning. I estimate the distance from Victoria to Mr. Golledge's tent at 26 miles—seven miles. Golledge's tent at 26 miles-seven miles to Golledge's tent at 26 miles—seven miles to Peatt's, and four miles to the opening of Munro's trail, which is 15 miles in length. It may be useful to some of your readers to know the watering places, as much inconvenience might be suffered without this information. Two miles from the Commissioner's tent is the first; another mile is the next; 4½ miles further is a sluggish stream, which will have to be corduroyed: one mile from the opening of the trail is the last. I have never seen a more sinuous trail than that blazed. ver seen a more sinuous trail than that blazed by Mr. Wall; no doubt the country is a dif-ficult one to pass through, yet traveling over it one feels astonished at the tortuosity of the road. Everything is quiet on the creek. D. WALKER, M. D.

ERRATUM .- A rather laughable blunder crept into our report of Dr. De Wolfe's case in the Supreme Court the day before yester-By an omission of a few words in the plaintiff's evidence, he is made to say that Mr. Wood was the 150th patient of his who died by his own hands, instead of which, he said that Mr. Wood, of 150 patients, was the first who died, and he died by his own hands. The report, as published, would tend to show that most of the doctor's patients committed

THE WHISKY TRAFFIC .-- A corresponden draws our attention to the wholesale traffic of liquor to Indians being carried on in a certain part of the city, more particularly on Sundays. We have conversed with the police Sundays. We have conversed with the police to whom the individuals alluded to are well known, two or three of their number having but recently left the chain gang, and their actions are closely watched. The man whose dress "Clitzen" describes is a noted and a marked character, he will probably fall into one of his own pits before long.

from Mr. C. W. Wallace, Junr., now in Portland, that the mail steamer would positively sail from San Francisco, for Portland and Victoria, on the 29th. She need not therefore be expected here before next Monday or Tucsday.

Govenner Kennery with Superintendent Smith proceeded on horse back up the river trail yesterday en route to Leech river. Miners who came down yesterday say that His Evcellency would have to dismount in two or three rough places and lead his horse, but that he would experience no difficulty in getting through last evening.

New Discovery.

The mines have received another accession to their wealth. Cuanningham's Creek, which was prospected two years ago more and abandoned as profitless, has surprised all our privately and as a public officer of a sister colony must long remember with pleasure the hearty welcome extended tohim by the miners of Cariboo. He deserved such this region the face of the surrounding country presents a rather inviting appearance.

The Chinese have for some time worked at the mouth of the Creek, which it is reasonable to suppose, success, as they have remained a cheer rung through the room, such as only miners can give. His name was mentioned a cheer rung through the room, such as only miners can give. His name was the signal for a general outburst of enthusiasm, and Mr. Harris' name was mentioned a cheer rung through the room, such as only miners can give. BRITISH COLUMBIA

A RICH CREEK STRUCK.

The news from Cariboo is highly encourage ng; Cunningham's Creek, which, although discovered in 1860, was since abandoned as worthless, has proved to be one of the richest and most easily worked creeks in Cariboo,

On Williams Creek matters continue duit ; a good many unemployed men were leaving for Sooke and elsewhere. The claims tapped by the bed-rock drain were said to be doing

CUNNINGIAMS CREEK. From Mr. J. Draper, one of the discoverer the new creek, called Cunningham's creek, and who left the mouth of Quesnelle 8 days

Mr. Draper and his three partners started from Williams creek on the 1st of April to prospect the creek, one of the party having mined a little on the creek in 1861, and have of Williams creek, and 6 miles south-east of Antler. The party, after obtaining a good prospect, went to work and got out lumber for sluces, and took out of the first pit 40 ounces in two days' work of two men. The bed-rock lies at a depth of from 6 to 18 feet throughout the entire creek. The pay is found through the dirt, and also on the bedrock. The party worked on a bar on the creek for about 6 weeks, taking out $25 to $30 a-day to the man. They then made a ditch a mile and a half long, and commence ground-slucing, making from 50 to 30 ounces a day. One day's washing reached 100 ounces. of Williams creek, and 6 miles south-east of

Some time in June a second party of two men found their way to the creek, and took up a claim close to the discoverers. White-hill, Draper & Co. They also succeeded well, making for the first three weeks about $25 per day; on striking the channel, they made 40 ounces the first day, and up to the 15th of August, the time our informant left, they made from 50 to 60 ounces a-day to the two men. The creek remained a total secret from the rest of the mining community till the 9th of August, when some parties out prospecting found out the success of the discoverers, and a rush from Williams creek commenced, and in two days time there were 300 men on Some time in June a second party of two and in two days time there were 300 men on the creek. In eight days from the first an-nouncement of the new creek, 300 claims were recorded, and 400 to 500 men on the ELLOOST EXPLORATION.—We tearn that an exploring party, consisting of Judge Elliott, Dr. Featherston and several others, left Lillooet eight days ago intending to strike the head waters of Pitt river. The arrival of the party may be daily looked for.

THE FOSTER CAMPBILL Co. are paying a little over expenses. THE DILLER Co. continue to get good pay, arving from 20 to 100 ounces a day. THE CANADIAN Co. have also struck pay THE BARKER Co. struck another lead, supposed to be the same as that of the Chipps Co. They took out over 150 ounces two days ago. The members will have a dividend for ago. The memoers THE CUNNINGHAM Co. have been very cessful. The dividend this week is over $460 to the interest. The bed rock of this claim has proved very rich, and a large amount of good ground remains yet to be worked. The company are preparing to wash the ground into the bed rock flume which now runs through their ground. THE AURORA Co. continue to get out as much gold as ever. They have been stopped the last few days from the scarcity of water: THE ERICSSON Co. is similarly situated in very respect.

THE WAKE UP JAKE Co. had a dividend for this week of $700 to the interest. They have struck a new seam of very rich dirt. THE HARVEY Dixon Co. have washed out about $150 out of some six or eight buckets. The pay dirt is about nine fect deep. The width of it is not known.

THE NEVER SWEAT Co. have bottomed good prospect. from forty to sixty ounces a day. THE MOFFATT Co. are drifting towards to their old channel.

THE TINKER Co.'s ground has been lately drained by the Bed-rock Drain Co. THE WATTIE AND CAMERON CLAIMS are yielding good pay still. Some days over 100 onnecs are taken out.

THE RABY Co. are doing very well. Di-ridends from $600 to $800 per week to the thare have been declared for some time past. THE PRINCE OF WALES, RANKIN, ADAMS, HUNT, and PHELAN Co.'s are all at rith varied success.

Lowhee Creek Most of the claims on this creek are sufferng from a scarcity of water. Horse Fly Creek.

The company who obtained a charter for sen acres of this creek, have already sunk to the creek. In eight days from the first announcement of the new creek, 300 claims were recorded, and 400 to 500 men on the ground prospecting.

Two timers named Walker and Johnson, who took up a claim 500 feet above the discoverers' line, had obtained a good prospect, picking up one piece weighing $20. The diggings are easily worked, and Mr. Draper thinks quite as extensive as Williams Creek.

The stream is larger than Ketthley's, and about three times as large as Williams and the stream runs northeasterly into Swamp river. It slength is about 30 miles. Mr. Draper take it is about 30 miles. Mr. Draper thinks quite as extensive as Williams and the stream runs northeasterly into Swamp river. It slength is about 30 miles. Mr. Draper than shown us a sample of the gold, which very much resembles Sooke gold in shape, aithough lighter in color. The quality is said to be about the best in Cariboo.

Mr. Draper came down by the Douglas route, and states that he found the best accommodation he has met with in British Columbia. He came through from Lillocet to Douglas in one day.

[From the Columbian.]

THE OFFICIAL VISIT TO KOOTANAIS.—As we announced on Saturday, the Hon. A. N. Birch, Colonial Secretary, leaves to-day for the Kaotanais mices. Mr. Bushby, Registrar-ciencial, and Mr. Evans, and he will take the route via Hope and Sooyoos, and expects the trip to occupy about six weeks. [From the Lendon Times] Most countries have only two kinds of policy to attend to—the foreign and the domestic. England has a third of vast magnitude and enormous importance, which relates neither to the internal government of these islands, nor yet to their relations with States living under the rule of other Sovereigns. In India, in the North American colonies, in Australia, we have a world of our own, all Australia, we have a world of our own, al but boundless in extent, and with a desting The pay dirt is not known.

Meanwhile, affairs of the very high-est moment, things inexpressibly interesting to this generation of Englishmen, and to all generations that are to succeed it, are treated with the most supercilious neglect; and it is not too much to say that the two wars in which we are at this moment engaged, do not occupy one-hundredth part of the attention which we have always been ready to lavish on the smallest quartels of our neighbors. We measure things by space instead of by magnitude, and fall into the same error as savages, who think the stars are only points, savages, who think the stars are only points, because they appear as such to the maked eye. The secretary for India opens his budget to empty benches, and, unless a friend is to be "whitewashed," or a government overthrown, it is hardly possible to get up a discussion on the affairs of the colonies. Our blood flows, our treasure is expended, the defence of the empire is neglected by its innabitants, and our trade is burdened with grivous imposts by our fellow subjects across the sea; but we take all these things very much as matters of course, while we are racked with anxiety to discover the means of constructing a personal union between the Duchies and Denmark, or of drawing a line which shall exactly separate the German from the Danish populations. savages, who think the stars are only points

Some few white men, however, stuck to the creek and four of them made the important discovery last week that the old primeval channel was not that of the present creek, but was one which ran at a distance of about 100 years aparallel with it. They found that the bed rock which pitched upwards and formed the basin through which the stream now runs, took when it reached its summits still steeper of pitch into what now forms the banks of the creek. So far the rock pitches with gentlone the basin through which the stream now runs, took when it reached its summits still steeper of pitch into what now forms the banks of the creek. So far the rock pitches with gentlone the basin through which the deeper it indicates the richer the ground becomes. The discoverers took out within a fraction of $450 to the man, one day last week. This and other gold which has been found was taken out of comparatively shallow diggings. About 20 men have already taken up claims with every prospect of success.
